SUMMARY

The Maryland Entomologist began irregular publication in February 1977. Each volume contains four issues. The journal was originally called Maryland Entomologist from 1977 (Volume 1, Number 1) through 1992 (Volume 3, Number 4). Beginning in 1995 (Volume 4, Number 1), the name transitioned to The Maryland Entomologist. Five members of the Maryland Entomological Society have served as Editor throughout the years.

Ronald W. Hodges:	1(1): February 1977
Robert S. Bryant:	1(2): October 1978
	1(3): April 1979
	1(4): August 1980
	2(1): August 1981
	2(2): December 1982
	2(3): December 1983
	2(4): December 1984
Charles L. Staines, Jr.:	3(1): April 1987
	3(2): May 1988
	3(3): November 1989
Robert S. Bryant:	3(4): March 1992
	4(1): December 1995
Harold J. Harlan:	4(2): May 1998
	4(3): July 2003
Eugene J. Scarpulla:	4(4): September 2008
	5(1): September 2009
	5(2): September 2010
	5(3): September 2011
	5(4): September 2012

The journal's two most prolific authors have been Charles L. Staines, Jr. (Coleoptera) and Robert S. Bryant (Lepidoptera: moths). Other prolific authors have included Austin P. Platt (Lepidoptera: butterflies), H. G. Stevenson (Lepidoptera: moths) and John H. Fales (Lepidoptera: butterflies). These five authors are acknowledged for their significant contributions to the entomological knowledge of Maryland.

Articles in the index are grouped by insect order. The orders are listed taxonomically. Within each order, the articles are listed alphabetically by author. Miscellaneous categories (general, book reviews and notices, MES field trips, poetry and recent literature) follow the Taxonomic Index.

TAXONOMIC INDEX

Odonata

- Harrison, S. J., and A. P. Platt. 1998. Environmental exposure to  $\text{Cu}^{2+}$  in Anax junius (Drury) naiads (Odonata: Aeshnidae) causes disruption in enzymatic mobilities. The Maryland Entomologist 4(2):17-26.
- Orr, R. L. 1998. Baseline survey of dragonflies and damselflies of Nassawango Creek, Maryland. The Maryland Entomologist 4(2):27-32.
- Orr, R. L. 2008. A rare Maryland damselfly (Odonata: Coenagrionidae), Enallagma doubledayi (Selys, 1850), Atlantic Bluet, at Hart-Miller Island, Baltimore County, Maryland. The Maryland Entomologist 4(4):26-27.
- Scarpulla, E. J. 2008. Sighting of Little Blue Dragonlet, Erythrodiplax minuscula (Rambur, 1842), at Hart-Miller Island, Baltimore County, Maryland. The Maryland Entomologist 4(4):28-30.

Hemiptera

- Bissell, T. L. 1980. The Homoptera. Maryland Entomologist 1(4):13-16.
